Chiropractic Questions and Answers

Question: Can I see an MD or another healer while I'm seeing a chiropractor? Can I see a chiropractor if I'm under medical care?

Answer: Keeping your spine healthy is a prerequisite for health no matter what other healthcare you are using. There is no conflict. Chiropractic is always a good thing to do. Think of chiropractic as you would good nutrition – a necessary part of taking care of oneself but especially needed if you have symptoms or are ill.

Chiropractic and Spinal Research

Chiropractic is not for diseases but for people. By that we mean that no matter what disease or symptoms your body may be expressing, you always need to have a healthy spine. In fact, everyone with any health problem needs a spine free from subluxations. It might make all the difference. Feel free to forward these studies to others.

Ear infections and chiropractic. 20%-30% of children suffer from middle ear infections (acute otitis media). In many cases antibiotic therapy leads to repeated episodes of the condition. In this study 21 children (9 months to 9 years) with acute otitis media were placed under chiropractic care. After adjustments the red and bulging eardrums returned to normal in 95% (with a drop in temperature). (1)

Chiropractic and Infertility, Migraines. A 28-year-old woman visited a chiropractor because of severe migraine headaches since she was a teenager, irregular menstrual cycles and inability to conceive. After two months care she reported no headaches during the preceding month. A regular menstrual cycle began 7 weeks into care and within 6 months she became pregnant. (2)

Reduction of a confirmed C5-C6 disc herniation.

A 39-year-old male cable technician complained of right neck and arm pain. He had a football injury 20 years prior with similar pain at that time. He now had an aching, deep pain running from the base of his neck to the right elbow and sharply down his arm.

Magnetic resonance imaging (MRI), thermography and muscle testing apparatus revealed a C5-C6 (neck) disc herniation. Under chiropractic care he became symptom free; a later MRI revealed a reduction in the herniation. (3)

Measure Twice, Cut Once – or Not at All?

650,000 hysterectomies are performed each year in the U.S. According to researchers most should never be done. Gynecologist Michael Broder, M.D., reviewed 500 operations and found that 70% of the surgeries had been done without first conducting adequate diagnostic tests to ensure the surgery was appropriate in the first place! About 14% of the women shouldn't have gotten a hysterectomy under any circumstances and 21% of the 340 patients with fibroids had surgery without first trying chiropractic, acupuncture, nutrition, herbs or drugs that might have corrected their problems.
